Class of the Month Spotlight

7th Grade

Seventh grade has had a busy March! In Math they learned about and created our own constellations while learning about how figures can transform on a coordinate plane. In Social Studies they are talking about Westward Expansion right after break and then ending their year with the Civil War. In ELA they've been reading the science fiction novel, The Last Cuentista, for the space literacy unit and writing creation myths that explain how certain space phenomena came to be. And in Science they are making model rockets, focusing on space themed designs. Students also created constellation boxes, illustrating the light years between stars of famous constellations.

Counselor Connection

During the month of April, we will be finishing up our career lessons in 7th and 8th grade. Throughout the grade levels we will also be talking about ways we can improve ourselves by learning how to use our self-honesty to set goals and work towards our potential. We will work on being persistent and not giving up on the goals that we have set.
