Answer: Mr. Towne, Middle School Math Teacher

Counselor Connection

In the month of April, K-2 will learn about what a good friend looks like and how to be a good friend. 3rd and 4th will talk about some important character traits, such as, responsibility, respect, and integrity. 5th through 8th will learn about the cost of college, education/career options for after high school, and they will work on resumes.

CLASS OF THE MONTH

7th Grade

It's been a fun month for seventh grade. Our literacy unit on oceans was a fun success in multiple ways. In math they designed and played their own board and card games. Seventh graders are starting a unit on Classification & Taxonomy in science where they will be learning how biologists use a hierarchical system to organize and name millions of species. Eventually, they will practice using dichotomous keys to identify mystery organisms and use binomial nomenclature to give them scientific names. Ask your student to share our class mnemonic for remembering the levels of life! In ELA, the 7th graders finished their literacy unit novel, The Killing Sea, by Richard Lewis. We also have been studying pesky commas. We will start Roll of Thunder, Hear My Cry after spring break. We're coming back from spring break strong and are looking forward to the rest of the year.

WHERE'S PARRY?

Parry stayed out of sight for the whole month of March. Some of those fierce-looking ocean animals had him a little worried!

Be sure to look for Parry's spot next month for a chance to earn three PAWS.
